

PROGRAM CHARTER FOR NOAA HEADQUARTERS PROGRAM

Program Manager: George E. White
Leadership Sub-goal Lead: Mitchell Luxenberg

1. EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The NOAA Headquarters Program is comprised of the 9 offices described below that lead and manage NOAA's line and staff offices. NOAA Headquarters affects every program and every person of NOAA, every day by providing top-level leadership, policy, direction, coordination, and representation. The Program is structured in accordance with DOO 10-15 and 25-5 and located within the Leadership Subgoal of the Provide Critical Support for NOAA's Mission Goal. The NOAA Headquarters Program houses the senior leadership of the agency, containing some of the agency's smallest offices with agency wide responsibility (offices of the Under Secretary/Assistant Secretary/Deputy Assistant Secretaries/Deputy Under Secretary; General Counsel; International Affairs; Legislative Affairs; Public, Constituent, and Intergovernmental Affairs; Education; Educational Partnership Program with Minority Serving Institutions; Federal Coordinator for Meteorology; and Program Analysis and Evaluation. This Program provides capabilities which enable the agency to attain a status as a top performing federal organization that works to ensure that resources entrusted to NOAA are well-managed and wisely used, and that NOAA is well-run and results-oriented. The Program is geographically located in Washington, DC and Silver Spring, Maryland, but its activities occur at both national and international levels.

Within the Office of the Under Secretary, the Under Secretary formulates policies and programs for achieving the objectives of NOAA and has the authority for program execution. The Assistant Secretary assists the Under Secretary/Administrator in formulating policies and programs and directs their execution. The Deputy Assistant Secretary for International Affairs exercises a leadership role in establishing policies, guidelines, and procedures for NOAA's international programs, and is a key advisor to the Under Secretary and Assistant Secretary on international program and policy issues. The Deputy Assistant Secretary for Oceans and Atmosphere is a key advisor to the Under Secretary and the Assistant Secretary on program and policy issues with responsibility for insuring that staff work and resources are properly marshaled to achieve the timely and effective implementation of their objectives and policies. The Deputy Under Secretary for Oceans and Atmosphere serves as a key advisor to the Under Secretary and Assistant Secretary on all program and policy issues and is responsible for ensuring the timely and effective implementation of NOAA policies and objectives. The Deputy Under Secretary oversees the development of and recommends policies and programs to meet NOAA's objectives; coordinates the implementation of policies promulgated by the Under Secretary and Assistant Secretary; coordinates actions required of NOAA in response to Executive Branch policy decisions; develops, plans, and coordinates major program efforts; and exercises delegated authority in committing NOAA to courses of action. The Deputy Under Secretary assists the Under Secretary and Assistant Secretary in the administration of programs and operations of NOAA and represents NOAA in executive level liaison with other federal agencies, the Congress, and private industry. The Naval and Air Force Deputies, in the Office of Military Affairs, facilitate coordination and joint planning with the military services and other Department of Defense offices as required, on programs of mutual organizational interest. The Decision Coordination Office and Program Coordination Office provide senior staff support to the Office of the Under Secretary.

The Office of Public and Constituent Affairs provides advice and counsel to the Office of the Under Secretary, Assistant Administrators, and Staff Office Directors and their staffs on media and constituent relations. The Office of Public and Constituent Affairs consists of three elements: Public Affairs, Constituent Affairs, and Outreach.

The Office of Education provides advice and counsel to the Office of the Under Secretary and the Department on matters dealing with education and coordinates education activities across NOAA.

The Educational Partnership Program with Minority Serving Institutions provides financial assistance to minority serving academic institutions to support collaborative research and training of students in NOAA-related sciences through competitive processes. This activity strengthens the capacity of, and promotes educational excellence and economic opportunities for, Historically Black Colleges and Universities, Hispanic Serving Institutions, Tribal Colleges and Universities, and American Indian, Asian American and Pacific Islanders and Alaska Native Institutions respectively.

The Office of Legislative Affairs coordinates all NOAA contacts with the Congress other than those relating to appropriations, and is responsible for the planning, direction, and coordination of legislative programs that are of immediate concern to the Under Secretary.

The Office of International Affairs is responsible for planning and coordinating NOAA's international programs and carries out, as directed by the Office of the Under Secretary, tasks of special interest related to international activities.

The Office of General Counsel provides legal advice and counsel to the Office of the Under Secretary and Assistant Secretary in the administration of NOAA's programs. The office also provides legal advice and counsel to the Deputy Assistant Secretary for International Affairs, the Assistant Administrators, and their staffs. NOAA GC provides legal review of all regulations issued by NOAA and all testimony, congressional correspondence and many other matters of importance to NOAA. The office handles all program-related litigation, in conjunction with the Department of Justice.

The Office of the Federal Coordinator for Meteorology discharges federal coordination functions to the DOC under OMB Circular A-62; establishes procedures for systematic and continuing review of national basic and specialized meteorological and oceanographic requirements for services and supporting research; prepares and maintains federal plans to achieve integration of current and future services and supporting research consistent with effective and economical accomplishment of national requirements; brings federal agencies concerned with international activities and programs in meteorological and oceanographic programs into close consultation and coordination; assists the Federal Coordinator in his or her role; directs independent studies and surveys as required by the Federal Coordinator; and manages the interagency committee structure used for reporting, coordinating and planning functions.

The Office of Program Analysis and Evaluation conducts the independent and objective analysis and evaluation of plans, programs, and requirements as they relate to the goals and strategies of the Strategic Plan, and review all significant program initiatives and major requirements, as well as provide support to analyses done within Line and Staff Offices.

Further information may be found on the NOAA website: <http://www.noaa.gov/>.

2. PROGRAM REQUIREMENTS

A. Requirement Drivers:

- High level key drivers are:

Department (of Commerce) Organizational Order (DOO) 10-15 (5/28/2004): authority and functions of the position of Under Secretary of Commerce for Oceans and Atmosphere and Administrator of the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA)

Department (of Commerce) Organizational Order 25-5 (6/15/05): organization, management structure, and assignment of functions within the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA)

- Additional key drivers specific to individual offices within the Program are:
Program Analysis and Evaluation –

Government Accountability Office findings which recommend an independent analysis and evaluation office within government agencies.

Office of Federal Coordinator for Meteorology –

Public Law 87-843 (Section 304) DOC Appropriation Act 1963

(Federal Committee for Meteorological Services and Supporting Research Interdepartmental Committee for Meteorological Services and Supporting Research)

Education Office –

NOAA Education Plan

NOAA Education Policy

U.S. Ocean Action Plan 2004– The Bush Administration’s Response to the U.S. Commission on Ocean Policy (Advancing Our Understanding of the Oceans, Coasts, and Great Lakes – “Promote Lifelong Ocean Education”)

Educational Partnership Program with Minority Serving Institutions – Presidents Executive Orders 12876, 12900, 13021 and 13339, and 13096 to strengthen the capacity of, and promote educational excellence and economic opportunities for, Historically Black Colleges and Universities, Hispanic Serving Institutions, Tribal Colleges and Universities, and American Indian, Asian American and Pacific Islanders and Alaska Native Institutions.

- B. Mission Requirements: (Specific requirements imposed upon the Under Secretary and senior leadership offices by DOO 10-15 and 25-5 are shown in Appendix 1).

The mission for the NOAA Headquarters Program is to provide top-level leadership of NOAA through policy and direction, coordination and representation, external relations, legal support, education coordination, management implementation, and management accountability.

3. LINKS TO THE NOAA STRATEGIC PLAN

- A. Goal Outcomes: In essence the activities of this Program supports all goal outcomes in NOAA. Its placement in the goal Provide Critical Support for NOAA’s Mission ties it specifically to the outcomes:
- A safe operating environment with efficient and effective financial, administrative, and support services.
 - Secure, reliable, and robust information flows within NOAA and out to the public.
 - A dynamic workforce with competencies that support NOAA’s mission today and in the future.
- B. Goal Performance Objectives: In essence this Program supports all goal performance objectives in NOAA. Its placement in the goal Provide Critical Support for NOAA’s Mission ties it specifically to the objective:
- Improve efficiency and performance of financial, administrative, workforce management, acquisition, and other support transactions and services.
- C. Goal Strategies: In essence this Program supports all goal strategies in NOAA. Its placement in the goal Provide Critical Support for NOAA’s Mission ties it specifically to the strategy:

- Lead agency-wide efforts in education and outreach, public affairs, legislative affairs, international affairs, and legal affairs.

4. PROGRAM OUTCOME(S)

Quality top-level leadership of NOAA through policy and direction, coordination and representation, legal support, management implementation, and management accountability to further the achievement of NOAA's mission and objectives.

5. PROGRAM ROLES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

This program is established and managed with the procedures established in the NOAA Business Operations Manual (BOM). Responsibilities of the Program Manager are described in the BOM. Responsibilities of other major participants are summarized below:

- A. Participating Line Office, Staff Office, and Council Responsibilities: The NOAA Headquarters Program is the top level management of NOAA, with oversight of the Executive Decision Process and the NOAA Business Model. Therefore all Line Offices, Staff Offices and Councils are responsible to provide support to this program as directed by the Under Secretary.
- B. External Agency/Organization Responsibilities: This program represents NOAA via executive level liaison with the Executive Office of the White House, Department of Commerce, other federal agencies, the Congress, state, local and tribal governments, private industry, non-governmental organizations, the general public, foreign nations of the world, and a wide range of international organizations.

6. END USERS OR BENEFICIARIES OF PROGRAM

1. Executive Office of the White House and partner Federal Agencies– the Administration and partner agencies benefit from NOAA programs that are managed effectively and efficiently, and the agency is viewed as a top performing federal organization providing leadership in the federal science community.
2. Office of Management and Budget – OMB benefits from NOAA programs that are managed in a cost-effective manner and in keeping with the Administration's priorities and goals.
3. Department of Commerce – Departmental executives benefit from NOAA programs that are managed effectively and efficiently, and the agency is a top performing federal organization providing leadership in the federal science community.
4. NOAA Managers, Mission Goal Teams, and Program Managers - Managers benefit from the success of meeting their mission objectives because of the high quality leadership and support they receive from senior leadership.

5. NOAA Employees – Employees benefit from a high level of satisfaction and success in achieving their mission objective because of the high quality of leadership and support they receive.
6. Congress – Members, authorizing committee staff, and appropriating committee staff benefit from a NOAA that is managing its programs in keeping with Congressional mandates, legislation, and directives.
7. State, local and tribal governments, non-governmental organizations, private sector, international community, and the general public – Realize results from a NOAA which optimizes benefits, and continually works to enhance those benefits, to the environment, the economy, and public safety.

 - e. act as NOAA's central point of contact for all external communications including writing editorials and letters to the editor, writing speeches for senior NOAA leadership, researching and writing background materials and fact sheets, designing brochures, representing NOAA and providing media support services at environmental and scientific conferences, and responding to public inquiries for written materials about NOAA;

- f. work with public and private sector organizations for collaborative outreach projects, planning and conducting ceremonies (sanctuary dedications, ship commissionings, change-of-command ceremonies, etc.), and supporting NOAA and the Department of Commerce (the Department) in special projects that require media, public, or constituent affairs expertise;
- g. produce video news releases and presentation graphics, full-length videos or films, and maintain libraries of existing NOAA videos and television news footage;
- h. provide media training for NOAA officials;
- i. respond to all public mail with materials updated and maintained by the correspondence unit;
- j. review and approve all NOAA publication requests, providing advice when applicable, including ensuring proper use and appearance of the NOAA emblem;
- k. coordinate intergovernmental duties for NOAA; and
- l. coordinate the office's activities with the Department's Office of Public Affairs and Office of Legislative and Intergovernmental Affairs.

.02 The Office of Education and Sustainable Development (*note: this office was renamed Office of Education in a congressional reprogramming approved September, 2005, recognizing that the requirements in b. below are no longer effective in this office. The next version of DOO 25-5 will delete section b.) shall provide advice and counsel to the Office of the Under Secretary and the Department on matters dealing with education and sustainable development. The Office shall:

- a. in the field of education:
 - (1) coordinate the implementation of the NOAA Strategic Plan for Education;
 - (2) serve as the Secretariat for the NOAA Education Council;
 - (3) provide expert support on education activities to NOAA's Line and Staff Offices;

- (4) promote NOAA services and products, and their benefits to the public;
- (5) seek out opportunities for NOAA to contribute to ocean, climate, and atmospheric science education;
- (6) advise the Under Secretary/Administrator on policies and programs related to formal and informal education; and
- (7) coordinate its educational activities with the Office of Public, Constituent, and Intergovernmental Affairs.

b. in the area of sustainable development:

- (1) consult within NOAA and with the Department and identify opportunities for the deployment of coordinated interagency/intergovernmental policy strategies that recognize the importance of linking economic and environmental goals;
- (2) facilitate new partnerships among governments, private industry, academic institutions, trade and professional associations, specialized users in agriculture, aquaculture, aviation, maritime communities, and environmental groups to bring federal, state, and local resources to bear on economic problems aggravated by conflicts over resource management and other issues;
- (3) advise the Secretary of Commerce (the Secretary) and the Under Secretary/Administrator on policies to encourage positive relationships between economic growth and environmental protection;
- (4) review proposed NOAA policies and programs to assess their impacts on state, local, and regional governments; and
- (5) prepare reference documents, coordinate studies, and analyze data that will be the basis for recommendations to NOAA management in its areas of responsibility.

.03 The Office of Legislative Affairs shall coordinate all NOAA contacts with Congress and shall be responsible for the planning, direction, and coordination of legislative programs that are of immediate concern to the Office of the Under Secretary. The Office shall:

- a. serve as the primary liaison for NOAA with the members and staff of Congress;
- b. identify and track all legislation of interest to NOAA, keeping the Office of the Under Secretary and Assistant Administrators informed;

- c. assist in the development of positions setting forth NOAA's views on the merits of proposed or pending legislation, receive requests for preparation of testimony before Congress, and coordinate responses to questions submitted for the record by members and staff;
 - d. direct and coordinate NOAA's cross-cutting and special interest congressional and legislative activities;
 - e. provide leadership to improve communications and coordination among legislative activities within NOAA's Line and Staff Offices, and provide oversight of those programs; and
 - f. coordinate the Office's activities with the Department's Office of Legislative and Intergovernmental Affairs.
- .04 The Office of General Counsel shall assist the General Counsel of NOAA in carrying out his or her statutory functions established by Reorganization Plan No. 4 of 1970. These functions shall be carried out subject to the authority of the Department's General Counsel, as provided in DOO 10-6.
- .06 The Office of Program Analysis and Evaluation shall conduct the independent and objective analysis and evaluation of plans, programs, and requirements as they relate to the goals and strategies of the strategic plan, and review all significant program initiatives and major requirements, as well as provide support to analyses done within Line and Staff Offices.
